PLAN TO PREVENT ESTATE DISPOSAL

Chicago Attorney Seeks to Enjoin
Coolidge, Rosenwald
And Others

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A Chicago attorney, Donald E. Malke, today was planning an injunction to prevent Calvin Coolidge, Julius Rosenwald and Alfred E. Smith from disposing of an $8,000,000 charity bequest of the late Conrad Huber, flashlight magnate.

Malke announced that as soon as he receives a copy of the record of inheritance he will go to New York and file the injunction suit in surrogate court. The basis of his suit, he said, will be a charge of mental incompetency on the part of Huber when he made the will.

According to Malke, whose father was Huber's cousin, Huber was known as an eccentric. He refused to see either his sister or brother in New York, Malke said.

DENIES GUILT IN ROBBERY

Moses Rutter, Circleville, entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of burglary and larceny when arraigned before Judge J. W. Adkins Tuesday and was returned to the county jail under $1,000 bond.

Warns Big Eaters

Dr. C. Jeff Miller, distinguished surgeon of New Orleans, says that the American people are digging their graves with their teeth and warns against the grave danger of consuming food in excessive quantities. Dr. Miller was elected to the office of director general of the American College of Surgeons at their congress in Chicago.

PERMIT BOND FOR STRIKERS

Gastonia Men, Cor

Movement Is Heard

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 22.—The fresh open spaces beckoned today to Fred Erwin Beal, leader of the Gastonia strike and his six aides, convicted of second degree murder in connection with the murder of Police Chief O. F. Aderholt, for the first time since they were incarcerated five months ago. The International Labor defense announced that it would put up bond for the seven some time today. The amounts of the bonds were fixed by Judge M. V. Barnhill, late yesterday pending the disposal of their cases by the defense counsel gave notice of appeal for a new trial.

It was the first time that bond was allowed the self-styled martyrs since they were arrested following the slaying of Aderholt on June 7, when he led a police raid upon the national textile workers union at Gastonia to quell a reported disturbance. They were held on a capital charge, until the state reduced the degree of murder against them at the beginning of their latest trial.

A jury composed of middle-aged farmers returned a verdict of guilty in the second degree yesterday afternoon after an hour's deliberation, preceded by a two-hour charge from Judge Barnhill.

There was no demonstration in the court room as the three-weeks old trial came to an end, although 20 uniformed policemen made an appearance in the crowd a few minutes before the verdict was announced.

Beal and three other "foreigners" received the heaviest of the sentences from Judge Barnhill. Beal, who was southern organizer for the N. T. W. U., Clarence Miller, of New York, an organizer for the Young Pioneers, a communist organization; Joseph Harrison, 24, Passaic, N. J., who was wounded in the melee that claimed Aderholt's life and George Carter, 27, of Mississipp, N. J., each got from 12 to 15 years each. They all received lesser sentences for assaulting Gilbert, but they too will run concurrently. Bond for Beal, Harris, Carter and Miller was set at $5,000 each; McGinnis and McLaughlin, $2,500, and Hendricks, $2,000.

Mrs. Lizzie Mowery of New Holland was in the city Saturday.

Little Boy and His Baby Sister Are Taken By Death Within 3 Hours

Sadness and sorrow came two-fold into the home of Floyd and Minnie M. Clevenger Riley of Monroe-twp Monday when within three hours death claimed two of their children—Floyd A. Jr., aged four years and Ethel Ann Lee, aged three months.

Floyd's illness began Saturday. His parents at the time were visiting friends in Circleville at the Pumpkin Show. Upon their return they at once took the child to the doctor who prescribed medicine and on Sunday the little boy was better.

Monday, however, the boy became suddenly violently ill again, and his parents tried to summon the physician by telephone. They were unable to reach him, however, and before they could prepare their son to bring him to town for the doctor, he died, apparently from acute appendicitis.

While Mr. and Mrs. Riley were working with Floyd, they failed to notice that their baby daughter, who had been suffering with a heavy cold, too was ill and tossing with fever. After the older child's death, the mother turned for comfort to her daughter only to find that she was critically ill. And though the parents, doctor and friends worked frantically for two hours, the baby's fever could not be reduced, and within three hours of the death of her brother, the little girl died of pneumonia.

There are left in the grief-stricken home, three other children, Jennie Aileen, Wayne and Eugene.

Floyd Jr. and Anna Lee will be buried side by side in the same casket. Funeral services will be conducted in the Hebron Methodist church at 2 p. m. Wednesday with the Rev. A. A. Leath of Washington C. H., officiating. Interment will be in the adjoining cemetery, under the direction of C. E. Hill of Williamsport.

PREDICT COLD WAVE IN OHIO

Observer Says High Wind
Tonight Will Cause 40 Degree Temperature

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 22.—(INS) The storm warning which was issued in New York City and which predicted storm conditions for Ohio today should not cause any undue alarm in the Buckeye state, W. G. Alexander, United States government observer here stated today.

High winds will prevail generally over the state late this afternoon and tonight, he said, but they will not be of sufficient intensity to cause any property damage. He issued a warning to airplane pilots, however.

The weatherman declared the disturbance reported over Ohio would move eastward before it had gained its full intensity and that it may reach storm proportions over Pennsylvania, Western Maryland and western New York.

Alexander predicted that there would be rain squalls throughout Ohio today and tonight and that the weather would then turn colder, dropping to about 40 degrees.

This temperature will continue over the week-end, he said. Asked by an International News Service reporter if the disturbance would usher in the winter season, he said that he could not forecast accurately the weather for more than a week ahead, but that he believed Ohio was in for a cold spell.

DIRIGIBLE AT FAYETTE FAIR

Goodyear's Vigilant to Share
Public Eye With Gov.
Cooper at Washington

WASHINGTON, C. H. (Dispatch) Oct. 22.—The new Goodyear dirigible "Vigilant" is to be one of the features of the Fayette Fall festival here, Oct. 23-24-25-26. Although the several Goodyear lighter-than-air craft have been cruising over Ohio periodically for the past several months, it is only on rare occasions that the general public gets more than a fleeting glimpse as one or another of the fleet of four sails by high over head.

However, under present plans and with weather permitting, the "Vigilant" will spend Friday, Oct. 25 in and over Washington C. H. She is to be landed on a field in the residential section of the city, not more than four blocks from the heart of the business area. The "Vigilant" is considered as one of the big type Blimps. Also, on this same day, Governor Myers Y. Cooper will review a parade of the city and county school children, at the conclusion of which he will make a public address from a platform erected at one of the main street intersections and equipped with loud speaking devices.

OIL CONTRACTOR ACCIDENT VICTIM

NEW LEXINGTON, O., Oct. 22.—(INS)—C. H. West, 45, prominent Bremen oil contractor, is dead today, having been instantly killed last night when his automobile plunged over a high embankment after colliding with another automobile which was said to have been driven by Dewey Allen, of Lancaster.

Four persons in the Allen machine escaped without injury.

Former U. S. Envoy Brings Bride Home

Colonel Lloyd C. Griscom, former United States Ambassador to Italy, arrived on the Aquitania with his bride, the former Audrey Elizabeth Crosse, an English beauty. The couple were married October 8, at Market Harbor, Northamptonshire, England. The bride's home was at Southsea. Griscom is a member of the New York bar. He is head of a corporation publishing several New York State weekly newspapers and recently purchased a daily paper in Tallahassee, Fla., where he owns a plantation.

New Encyclopaedia Contains Story Of Description of Circleville Show

New Series in Local Library
Tells of Pumpkin Show With 7 World Wonders

The Circleville Public Library announces its most recent acquisition. It is the New Fourteenth Edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

This edition, completely revised and rewritten, is profusely illustrated and represents a remarkable advance in encyclopaedia making. The public is invited to become familiar with this new work and to take full advantage of its many helpful features.

Most interesting to many will be what this volume contains about Circleville. It says "Circleville, a city of Ohio, U. S. A., on the Scioto river, 25 miles south of Columbus; the county seat of Pickaway-co. It is on Federal highway 23, and is served by the Norfolk and Western and the Pennsylvania railroads. The population in 1920 was 7049. Canned vegetables, pork products, straw for paper boxes and sealing wax are among its distinctive manufactures. An annual Pumpkin Show is held.

"The city was laid out in 1806, within a circular embankment of prehistoric origin, with an octagonal court house in the center and circular streets around it. The court house was burned in 1841 and no trace remains of the original plan or of the ancient earthworks. The city was chartered in 1853." Encyclopaedia Britannica 14th edition, 1929.

So saith the mighty book about the humble town of Circleville. It is rather remarkable that the Circleville Pumpkin Show should be mentioned in the same volume.

GRAF TO TRAVEL TO NORTH POLE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Renewed confidence in the Graf Zeppelin's projected trip to the North Pole was seen today in an order from Secretary of War Good to Major General John L. Hines, commander of the Ninth Corps area, at San Francisco, to extend every courtesy and facility to the Zeppelin. The dirigible is expected to stop at Fairbanks, Alaska, at that corps area, to refuel on its Arctic flight in April and May, 1930.

Good's order was sent at the request of Secretary of State, Stimson.

RAINFALL AIDS COUNTY OVER HALF MILLION

Jupe Pluvius Pours 2.17 Inches Of Rainfall Over Picka-
way Since Sunday

The general rainfall which has enveloped Circleville and Pickaway-co since Sunday at 7 p. m. and has continued to the present time has been termed a typical "God-send" by farmers throughout the county for it has given the wheat crop new life.

Where wheat was just coming along gradually and showing little development, the rainfall has caused the crop to literally jump up and look real healthy as it should this time of year.

Old Jupiter Pluvius whom it has been said controls the skies and what comes from them, has been one grand old fellow to Pickaway-co residents in the last week.

Four perfect days were provided for Circleville's 26th annual Pumpkin Show, and immediately after the show had ended, rain which had not ceased at 3 p. m. Tuesday was still falling from the skies.

In Pickaway-co there are 55,000 acres of land devoted to the wheat crop alone. Reports of County Farm Agent Stanley Lewis disclose that 20 and 2-10 per cent of Pickaway-co farmers income is returned from the wheat crop.

Mr. Lewis says, "This rainfall which appears to be general throughout Southwestern Ohio means more than one-half million dollars to the farmers of Pickaway-co alone."

According to Pickaway county's veteran weather observer, Dr. H. R. Clark, from 7 p. m. Sunday until 7 a. m. Tuesday there have been 2.17 inches of rainfall.

ANXIETY OVER CLEMENCEAU AND POINCARÉ LESSONS AFTER ORDEAL

PARIS, Oct. 22.—France's anxiety over the condition of her two war-time leaders, Georges Clemenceau and Raymond Poincaré, lessened slightly today.

The "grand old man" of France, today was believed to be on the safe side of a crisis brought on by a sudden, severe heart attack.

M. Poincaré, who yesterday underwent a second operation made necessary by the illness which forced him to resign from the Premiership last July, today was making satisfactory progress.

The grim battle put up by M. Clemenceau against the effects of the heart attack yesterday was typical of the many political battles he had fought and won during his long, stormy career.

The attack was so severe that attending physicians administered oxygen five times and further thought it necessary to administer an injection of camphor to stimulate the 58-year-old statesman's heart.

Yet "The Tiger," as he is affectionately known, maintained his cheerfulness throughout the ordeal and yesterday afternoon was so far recovered as to be able to sit up and write letters according to an intimate friend who visited him.

SETTLES, RELEASED

Everett Hoskins, Circleville, who was arrested by Deputy Fessell Sunday on a bad check charge, was released from city prison Monday, after settling the check with the Clarksburg Discount Co., the payee.

Ready To Pay Piper

William F. Pote, immaculate, gray-haired swindler, who rose from a job as a Lafayette, Ind., cigar store clerk to a trusted bond salesman for a big concern, has admitted the theft of $100,000, mostly from women investors of the firm. He says he is ready to pay the price of frittering away the large sums he embezzled.

OHIO SENATOR KNOCKS FALL

Atlee Pomerene Takes Floor
To Name Defendant
Corrupt Official

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The Fall bribery trial jury today will hear a story of super-patriotism and of mellow friendship.

With only a few hours intervening before the jury takes the case and renders a verdict on whether the $100,000 former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall got from E. L. Dohney, the oil magnate, was a bribe for the leasing of the Elk Hills naval oil reserve, Frank J. Hogan, chief of defense counsel, dusted off his now-familiar spellbinder and prepared for an all-day argument. It is possible the case may go to the jury this afternoon, but more likely it will be tomorrow.

POMERENE TALKS

All day yesterday, the four women and eight men of the jury heard former Senator Atlee Pomerene, of Ohio, denounce Fall as a corrupt official and Dohney as a sharp-practitioner, but today Hogan will portray a pair of old friends who prospected and endured hardships together back in the gold rush days, the one who became wealthy gladly loaning the other a mere pittance of his wealth in time of need.

Dohney, who counts his millions by the score, looks upon $100,000 as the man of the street would regard $25, he will aver, and the loaning of that amount to Fall had nothing to do with the leasing of the Elk Hills reserve.

In fact, Hogan will contend Fall had nothing to do with the lease. The navy department arranged to open the naval reserves because it had confidential information that Japan had millions of barrels of oil in secret storage underneath the harbor at Tokyo and war clouds were gathering in the Pacific, he will state.

The navy wanted fuel oil and storage facilities at Hawaii as a measure of national defense, and Dohney, so advised, heroically stepped forward and agreed to come to the aid of American's war fleet, even though at first he didn't expect "to make a cent of profit out of it."

Dohney since has tempered this with an admission he expected to make $100,000 out of Elk Hills but Hogan, who really is the oil man's attorney—he is defending Fall solely because a bribery indictment also hangs over Dohney—will insist that patriotism of the highest order impelled the instructions that caused the Pan American Petroleum Co. to bid on the reserve.

Mrs. W. B. Cady will spend Wednesday in Columbus.

JOINS IN FETE FOR OPENING OF WATERWAY

Attend Real Party For Edison
Welcomed by Officials
To Go To Louisville

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(I.N.S. Staff Correspondent)
CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 22.—President Hoover arrived here today at nine A. M., to participate in the Ohio River improvement celebration.

The President was welcomed to the city by a small committee headed by Oscar F. Barrett, president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association and city officials and was taken to the Gibson hotel prior to going to Eden Park for the dedication of a monument.

The streets from the station to the hotel were lined with people. President Hoover journeyed southward today to join with the Ohio River folks in the celebration they are staging over the subjugation of "ole man river."

Today and tomorrow the President will spend on the Ohio, famed in song and story, and he will rejoice with the valley people over the fact that after years of struggle and effort, it is now possible to sail from Pittsburgh to New Orleans, through a stretch of 2,000 miles of improved waterway. This has been made possible by the completion of the nine foot channel throughout the length of the troublesome Ohio.

AT LOUISVILLE WEDNESDAY
In Cincinnati today and Louisville tomorrow, Mr. Hoover will give the country an insight into his waterways policies, which contemplate a vast linking-up of transportation facilities in the fertile, middlewest before he leaves the White House.

Today, he participated in Cincinnati's celebration of the channel completion. Upon the conclusion of these, the president will board a river steamer, such as Mark Twain used to write about, for a leisurely trip downstream to Louisville where tomorrow night he will explain his waterways policies in considerable detail. It is a subject in which the whole Mississippi valley, to its uttermost tributaries, is interested.

Mr. Hoover turned southward after a day and night spent in the vast industrial empire which Henry Ford has thrown upon the banks of the River Rouge within a stone's throw of Detroit. To call Ford's establishment an empire is no mere figure of speech: it is an empire in fact, and he is the feudal ruler of it, from its acres of factories eating raw steel and spawning cars, to the idyllic early American village, a whim upon which he has spent three millions of dollars as a mere beginning.

AMAZED AT DEARBORN

Familiar as he is with the industrial set-up of the country, even Mr. Hoover was interested and somewhat amazed at the breath and scope of the Ford domain, and the prodigality with which the automobile magnate has poured out millions to the gratification of a whim to reconstruct an American village of colonial days. The general public has not yet been permitted entry to this idyllic venture of the world's richest man. It is an undertaking that only a Ford, with his millions could envisage, an undertaking that involves the faithful replicas of dozens of whole colonial buildings, the collection of pieces of America from the furthestmost parts of the country, the employment of hundreds of skilled artists and artisans.

Ultimately it will become a public park, a retreat to which the motorized and air-minded age may go and see and marvel at the manner in which the pioneers lived (Turn to Page 3, Please)

So saith the mighty book about the humble town of Circleville. It is rather remarkable that the Circleville Pumpkin Show should be mentioned in the same volume

GRAF TO TRAVEL TO NORTH POLE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Renewed confidence in the Graf Zeppelin's projected trip to the North Pole was seen today in an order from Secretary of War Good to Major General John L. Hines, commander of the Ninth Corps area, at San Francisco, to extend every courtesy and facility to the Zeppelin. The dirigible is expected to stop at Fairbanks, Alaska, in that corps area, to refuel on its Arctic flight in April and May, 1930.

Good's order was sent at the request of Secretary of State Stimson.

with the seven wonders of the world. Aside from the fact that the Britannica mentions the population, pork products and canned vegetables in the same breath, the town feels honored.

The book is well worth the perusal of all, and the facts contained in each new edition of this set are amazing.

FRENCH TIGER PASSES CRISIS

Anxiety Over Clemenceau And Poincare Lessens After Ordeal

PARIS, Oct. 22.—France's anxiety over the condition of her two war-time leaders, Georges Clemenceau and Raymond Poincare, lessened slightly today.

The "grand old man" of France, today was believed to be on the safe side of a crisis brought on by a sudden, severe heart attack. M. Poincare, who yesterday underwent a second operation made necessary by the illness which forced him to resign from the Premiership last July, today was making satisfactory progress.

The grim battle put up by M. Clemenceau against the effects of the heart attack yesterday was typical of the many political battles he had fought and won during his long, stormy career.

The attack was so severe that attending physicians administered oxygen five times and further thought it necessary to administer an injection of camphor to stimulate the 88-year-old statesman's heart.

Yet "The Tiger," as he is affectionately known, maintained his cheerfulness throughout the ordeal and yesterday afternoon was so far recovered as to be able to sit up and write letters, according to an intimate friend who visited him.

RAINFALL AIDS COUNTY OVER HALF MILLION

Jupe Pluvius Pours 2.17 Inches Of Rainfall Over Pickaway Since Sunday

The general rainfall which has enveloped Circleville and Pickaway-co since Sunday at 7 p. m. and has continued to the present time has been termed a typical "God-send" by farmers throughout the county for it has given the wheat crop new life.

Where wheat was just coming along gradually and showing little development, the rainfall has caused the crop to literally jump up and look real healthy as it should this time of year.

Old Jupiter Pluvius whom it has been said controls the skies and what comes from them, has been one grand old fellow to Pickaway-co residents in the last week.

PERFECT WEATHER

Four perfect days were provided for Circleville's 26th annual Pumpkin Show, and immediately after the show had ended, rain which had not ceased at 3 p. m. Tuesday was still falling from the skies.

In Pickaway-co there are 55,000 acres of land devoted to the wheat crop alone. Reports of County Farm Agent Stanley Lewis disclose that 20 and 2-10 per cent of Pickaway-co farmers income is returned from the wheat crop.

Mr. Lewis says, "This rainfall which appears to be general throughout Southwestern Ohio means more than one-half million dollars to the farmers of Pickaway-co alone.

According to Pickaway county's veteran weather observer, Dr. H. R. Clark, from 7 p. m. Sunday until 7 a. m. Tuesday there have been 2.17 inches of rainfall.

An announcement was made at the meeting that meetings from now on will be held at the Boggs Hotel instead of at the Hanley Tea Room.

He says he is ready to pay the price of frittering away the large sums he embezzled.

OHIO SENATOR KNOCKS FALL

Atlee Pomerene Takes Floor To Name Defendant Corrupt Official

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The Fall bribery trial jury today will hear a story of super-patriotism, and of mellow friendship.

With only a few hours intervening before the jury takes the case and renders a verdict on whether the $100,000 former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall got from E. L. Doheny, the oil magnate, was a bribe for the leasing of the Elk Hills naval oil reserve, Frank J. Hogan, chief of defense counsel, dusted off his now-familiar spellbinder and prepared for an all-day argument. It is possible the case may go to the jury this afternoon, but more likely it will be tomorrow.

POMERENE TALKS

All day yesterday, the four women and eight men of the jury heard former Senator Atlee Pomerene of Ohio, denounce Fall as a corrupt official and Doheny as a sharp-practitioner, but today Hogan will portray a pair of old friends who prospected and endured hardships together back in the gold rush days, the one who became wealthy gladly loaning the other a mere pittance of his wealth in time of need.

Doheny, who counts his millions by the score, looks upon $100,000 as the man of the street would regard $25, he will aver, and the loaning of that amount to Fall had nothing to do with the leasing of the Elk Hills reserve.

In fact, Hogan will contend Fall had nothing to do with the lease. The navy department arranged to open the naval reserves because it had confidential information that Japan had millions of barrels of oil in secret storage underneath the harbor at Tokyo and war clouds were gathering in the Pacific, he will state. The navy wanted fuel oil and storage facilities at Hawaii as a measure of national defense, and Doheny, so advised, heroically stepped forward and agreed to come to the aid of America's war fleet, even though at first he didn't expect "to make a cent of profit out of it."

Doheny since has tempered this with an admission he expected to make $100,000,000 out of Elk Hills, but Hogan, who really is the oil man's attorney—he is defending Fall solely because a bribery indictment also hangs over Doheny—will insist that patriotism of the highest order impelled the instructions that cause the Pan American Petroleum Co. to bid on the reserve.

Attend Real Party For Edison Welcomed by Officials To Go To Louisville

By GEORGE R. HOLMES (I.N.S. Staff Correspondent) CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 22.—President Hoover arrived here today at nine A. M., to participate in the Ohio River improvement celebration.

The President was welcomed to the city by a small committee headed by Oscar F. Barrett, president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association and city officials and was taken to the Gibson hotel prior to going to Eden Park for the dedication of a monument.

The streets from the station to the hotel were lined with people.

President Hoover journeyed southward today to join with the Ohio River folks in the celebration they are staging over the subjugation of "ole man river."

Today and tomorrow the President will spend on the Ohio, famed in song and story, and he will rejoice with the valley people over the fact that after years of struggle and effort, it is now possible to sail from Pittsburgh to New Orleans, through a stretch of 2,000 miles of improved waterway. This has been made possible by the completion of the nine foot channel throughout the length of the troublesome Ohio.

AT LOUISVILLE WEDNESDAY

In Cincinnati today and Louisville tomorrow, Mr. Hoover will give the country an insight into his waterways policies, which contemplate a vast linking up of transportation facilities in the fertile middlewest before he leaves the White House.

Today he participates in Cincinnati's celebration of the channel completion. Upon the conclusion of these, the president will board a river steamer, such as Mark Twain used to write about, for a leisurely trip downstream to Louisville where tomorrow night he will explain his waterways policies in considerable detail. It is a subject in which the whole Mississippi valley, to its uttermost tributaries, is interested.

Mr. Hoover turned southward after a day and night spent in the vast industrial empire which Henry Ford has thrown upon the banks of the River Rouge within a stone's throw of Detroit. To call Ford's establishment an empire is no mere figure of speech: it is an empire in fact, and he is the feudal ruler of it, from its acres of factories eating raw steel and spawning cars, to the idyllic early American village, a whim upon which he has spent three millions of dollars as a mere beginning.

AMAZED AT DEARBORN

Familiar as he is with the industrial set-up of the country, even Mr. Hoover was interested and somewhat amazed at the breath and scope of the Ford domain, and the prodigality with which the automobile magnate has poured out millions to the gratification of a whim to reconstruct an American village of colonial days. The general public has not yet been permitted entry to this idyllic venture of the world's richest man. It is an undertaking that only a Ford, with his millions could envisage, an undertaking that involves the faithful replicas of dozens of whole colonial buildings, the collection of pieces of America from the furthestmost parts of the country, the employment of hundreds of skilled artists and artisans.

Ultimately it will become a public park, a retreat to which the motorized and air-minded age may go and see and marvel at the manner in which the pioneers lived (Turn to Page 3, Please)

And, incongruous as it may be, President Hoover saw last night winging over this colonial stage-setting, great multi-motored airplanes flying through the rain and fog, brilliantly illuminated, as if to accentuate annihilation of time and distance in transportation.

The noise of the night-flying behemoths penetrated faintly into the candle-lit replica of Independence Hall, where the elite of the country's industrial and business genius were gathered to honor Thomas A. Edison, the father of modern lighting.

It is probably no exaggeration to say that no more distinguished company ever sat at any banquet table than at Henry Ford's table to pay tribute to their presence to the greying old man who rose from a news butcher on a jerk-water railroad to the highest scientific attainment that this country has yet seen.

The President of the United States was there and paid him tribute and so were the heads of scores of the nation's greatest industrial enterprises.

WILL ROGERS THERE

The roster of the guests at Henry Ford's dinner to his old friend Edison, in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the perfection of the incandescent lamp, read like a financial and industrial blue-book of America. And from beyond the confines of his own country came messages to Edison, paying tribute to his genius. The Prince of Wales sent his greetings and best wishes. President Von Hindenburg of Germany, expressed his admiration in a message, and from elsewhere in the world came communications of esteem and respect for the man who gave the world the electric bulb that now glows from Tokio to Kamchatka.

Some idea of the prominence of the company might be gained from an off-hand wisecrack by Will Rogers, the comedian. "Whenever," he said, "Charley Schwab and Otto Kahn are not sufficient prominent to be seated at the head table, you have been to some banquet."

President Hoover went from this banquet to his special train and left Dearborn soon after midnight. The train was due in Cincinnati at 9:00 a. m.

Neither the president nor Mrs. Hoover apparently suffered any ill-effects from the drenching they received yesterday in riding for several hours in a chill October drizzle through cheering lanes of damp Detroiters.

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Railroads have safely passed those danger signals of prejudice which caused folks to look upon them with fear. Holding aloft the semaphore of progress AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE cleared the track and, today, millions travel in ease and security.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Saturday night, over a coast-to-coast network of the N. B. C.

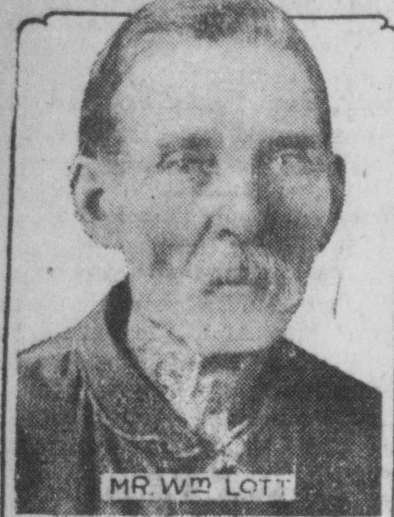

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 250°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

HOYT'S COMES TO RELIEF OF OHIO RESIDENT OF 74

Mr. William Lott Had Suffered With Rheumatism for 30 Years; Amazed at Quick Relief

Mr. William Lott, Route No. 4, Chillicothe, Ohio (a few miles from Circleville) is now another near-by resident who has found new and better health through a short treatment of Hoyt's Compound which is the great natural medicine now being introduced and explained to residents of this whole section every day here in this city at Wilder's drug store.

MR. W. LOTT

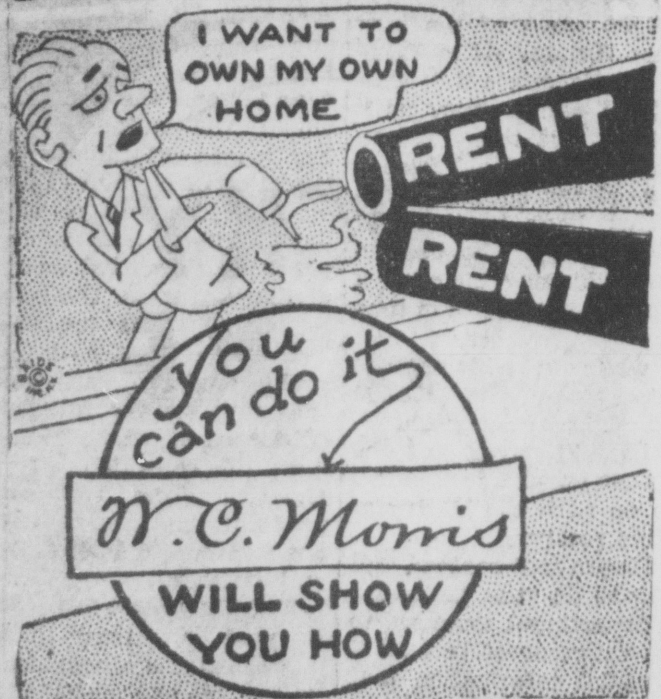

Mr. Lott is 74 years of age and has lived in this vicinity his entire life. His truthful statement appears below just as he sent it in for publication. He states:

"For more than 30 years I have been a constant sufferer of rheumatism constipation and kidney trouble," said Mr. Lott. "Nearly all of my life my bowels have been congested and irregular and at times I suffered from severe attacks of indigestion and always had to take the strongest of bowel physics. Nearly thirty years ago rheumatism set in and seemed to seize my whole body. My shoulders were so stiff and sore that I could hardly move my arms. Then it went to my hips and knees and the joints were so stiff that I could hardly walk. In fact I was almost helpless, with suffering which I endured was so intense at times that I thought that I would die of agony. My deranged kidneys kept me up at night as many as four or five times and finally my nervous system was completely wrecked.

"But right along I kept reading about HOYT'S COMPOUND and many of my close friends who had taken it obtained such great results that I decided to give it a trial. I had tried all kinds of medicines and even the most modern medical discoveries but none of them had helped me. I was AMAZED at the quick relief Hoyt's brought me. I had hardly taken two bottles of this wonderful medicine when the stiffness had gone from my limbs and my bowels were regulated perfectly. No longer was my rest broken at night because of my kidneys and my whole body was free from the rheumatism. I do not hesitate in saying that in my opinion Hoyt's Compound is the greatest medicine to ever be introduced here. It readily ACTS LIKE MAGIC. I will verify the above statement to anyone who wishes to talk to me about."

Hoyt's Compound is sold in Circleville at Wilder's Drug Store and by all leading druggists in surrounding towns.

Jesse Livermore Reported to Have Made Millions in Stock Mart Drop

"Boy Plunger" Has Big "Bulls" In Upward Over Recent Activities

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—Wall-st buzzed today with stories of huge fortunes at stake in the present run of spectacular markets on the New York stock exchange.

Jesse Livermore of New York, multi-millionaire plunging speculator and credited with being the "biggest bear" in the market, is reported to have made millions of dollars in the last few weeks on the downward trend of prices. This man, who years ago was known as "The boy plunger," is one of the most colorful personalities who ever invaded "the street."

He is perhaps the most-discussed "man of the hour" in Wall-st today. He is certain, however, to meet with vigorous opposition from the big "bulls," Arthur W. Cullen of Chicago, William C. Durant of New York, the Fisher Brothers of Detroit, and other members of the so-called coterie of "big ten" bulls.

Powerful banking interests are also said to be opposed to further drops in the market because of the possible effect such "breaks" would have on business.

Powerful banking interests are also said to be opposed to further drops in the market because of the possible effect such "breaks" would have on business.

MARKET AGAIN DOWN

Today, after rallying somewhat, the market again began to slide a bit with the "bulls" desperately fighting back.

Livermore has been reported heavily short on the market and Cullen heavily long, but there has been no direct action by either against the other. The market has been a singularly "impersonal" affair, although outstanding personalities are taking an active part in it.

This titanic struggle is based on sharply divergent views, Livermore, who is referred to as one of the "psychological bears," has long believed that prices on the stock market have been too high. He is not, however, a "bear" on American business conditions but he is understood to believe that enthusiasm on the part of Wall-st and the general buying public has skyrocketed values up to an unwarranted basis. There is an old saying in the street that "what goes up must come down."

Cullen, the Fisher Brothers, Durant and others differ with the view that prices are too high. In the last month Cullen has issued several statements—or at least the stock tickers have credited the statements to them—to the effect that he continues bullish on stocks he has given his reasons, too.

GO ON RIGHT SIDE

Of late Livermore has been on the "right" side of the market. Cullen on the "wrong" side. Whether the tide will turn is problematical, something which nobody knows for a certainty.

Livermore is an intensely interesting personality. He is a slight, blonde man, quick and nervous in his demeanor and a fastidious dresser. He rides in expensive automobiles, maintains a retinue of servants and has luxurious offices in New York City. As a boy he was a board marker in Boston brokerage houses and developed unusual skill at ticker tape reading. He came to New York and played the market skillfully. He is reputed to have won and lost several fortunes. His latest success is in the nature of a "come back."

Whether Livermore is at the head of a big "bear" pool, as rumored in Wall-st, or operating on his own account is a matter of speculation and was causing no end of discussion in the financial district today as business men and brokers watched with keen interest the trend of prices.

The "bear" markets have been in progress almost steadily in the last six weeks, and particularly since Oct. 4. Last Saturday's market was decidedly bearish. The markets of the next few weeks, in the opinion of well-informed traders, are likely to prove exciting, what with the "bull" and "bears" coming to a showdown on the issue upon which they differ.

GRIDDERS MEET WASHINGTON IN SEASON'S TEST

Fayette-co Squad Has Lost But One Contest This Year

The hardest test of the Circleville high school football season will be met Thursday at 3 p. m. when the Washington C. H. aggregation invades the local field.

Coach J. M. Guthrie in preparation for the Washington game has tested his first string backs to the limit by placing them on the second team against the first team line.

HEISKELL AT QUARTER

Johnny Heiskell who has been playing full back on the eleven has been shifted to quarterback at which position he will probably be seen Thursday. Davis is playing a halfback with Hundley.

Washington comes here very much the favorite. It has been playing good ball all season, being stopped only by Chillicothe's mighty team.

According to scores of recent years with the big Washington crew, the locals have scored only 37 points against the Fayette-co. crew in seven contests as against 153.

The scores of previous years starting with 1920, were: Circleville 0; Washington C. H. 19; a return game in 1920 saw the Circleville team mop up by a 12-6 score. In 1923 the score was Washington 20; Circleville, 0. In 1925, Washington, 31. Circleville 6. In 1926 the score was Circleville 19. Washington 14. In 1927 and 1928 the locals went down under score of 18-0 and 45-0.

ARONSON'S CAULIFLOWER CARD LOOKS LIKE BEST OF SEASON

Eddie Kid Wagner May Meet Tartar in Mason Buskirk in Main Scrap—Culp and Jones Will Stage Real Swatfest—Dud Stout and Beck Open Show

The fight card Norman Aronson has scheduled for the Grand theatre Wednesday evening shows promise of being one of the best bunch of parties ever put out here. With every boy in the roster a willing and ready socker, the success of Aronson's mitt battle seems assured.

Heading the list of popular bouts is that between Eddie Kid Wagner, Chillicothe, and Mason Buskirk, Circleville's south-end hope. The ring ability of this Wagner boy is well-known, outside Circleville as in the Roundtown, for he has been throwing gloves for the past year or so, and with real success.

Wagner's favorite blow is a right swing which if it finds its mark is almost certain to put the Kid's opponent on the canvas.

BRINGS CROWD ALONG

The Chillicothe lad is bringing a bunch of fight enthusiasts with him who are hoping to see him put this Buskirk boy on the mat the same as he has several other local scrappers.

But Wagner will meet a real test in Buskirk.

In his last two contests, both at Scippo, Buskirk's opponent was singing "I'll See You In My Dreams" long before the scheduled termination of the scrap had been reached.

Wagner by this time has become thoroughly convinced that he is unbeatable in a local arena. Wednesday night's scramble will prove something, one way or the other.

The other bouts on the schedule are drawing plenty of attention on their own hooks.

Kid Culp, at 135 pounds, meets Lou Jones, of Ashville, in the nearest thing to a "natural" the card possesses.

STOUT-BECK MEET

Dud Stout will meet Kid Beck in the eyeopener of the evening. Beck is the lad who held Midget Davis to a draw a week ago at the Grand theatre.

Yessir, this looks like a real cauliflower card young Mr. Aronson has scheduled, and its almost certain a large crowd of swat fans will be in attendance when the doors open at 6:30 p. m.

The boxing events will be accompanied by the usual picture.

HOYT'S COMES TO RELIEF OF OHIO RESIDENT OF 74

Mr. William Lott Had Suffered With Rheumatism for 30 Years; Amazed at Quick Relief

Mr. William Lott, Route No. 4, Chillicothe, Ohio (a few miles from Circleville) is now another near-by resident who has found new and better health through a short treatment of Hoyt's Compound which is the great natural medicine now being introduced and explained to residents of this whole section every day here in this city at Wilder's drug store.

Mr. Lott is 74 years of age and has lived in this vicinity his entire life. His truthful statement appears below just as he sent it in for publication. He states: "For more than 30 years I have been a constant sufferer of rheumatism, constipation and kidney trouble," said Mr. Lott. "Nearly all of my life my bowels have been congested and irregular and at times I suffered from severe attacks of indigestion and always had to take the strongest of bowel physics. Nearly thirty years ago rheumatism set in and seemed to seize my whole body. My shoulders were so stiff and sore that I could hardly move my arms. Then it went to my hips and knees and the joints were so stiff that I could hardly walk. In fact I was almost helpless, with suffering which I endured was so intense at times that I thought that I would die of agony. My deranged kidneys kept me up at night as many as four or five times and finally my nervous system was completely wrecked. "But right along I kept reading about HOYT'S COMPOUND and many of my close friends who had taken it, obtained such great results that I decided to give it a trial. I had tried all kinds of medicines and even the most modern medical discoveries but none of them had helped me. I was AMAZED at the quick relief Hoyt's brought me. I had hardly taken two bottles of this wonderful medicine when the stiffness had gone from my limbs and my bowels were regulated perfectly. No longer was my rest broken at night because of my kidneys and my whole body was free from the rheumatism. I do not hesitate in saying that in my opinion Hoyt's Compound is the greatest medicine to ever be introduced here. It readily ACTS LIKE MAGIC. I will verify the above statement to anyone who wishes to talk to me about." Hoyt's Compound is sold in Circleville at Wilder's Drug Store and by all leading druggists in surrounding towns.

Jesse Livermore Reported to Have Made Millions in Stock Mart Drop

"Boy Plunger" Has Big "Bulls" In Uproar Over Recent Activities

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—Wall-st. buzzed today with stories of huge fortunes at stake in the present run of spectacular markets on the New York stock exchange.

Jesse Livermore of New York, multi-millionaire plunging speculator and credited with being the "biggest bear" in the market, is reported to have made millions of dollars in the last few weeks on the downward trend of prices. This man, who years ago was known as "The boy plunger," is one of the most colorful personalities who ever invaded "the street."

He is perhaps the most-discussed "man of the hour" in Wall-st. today. He is certain, however, to meet with vigorous opposition from the big "bulls," Arthur W. Cullen of Chicago, William C. Durant of New York, the Fisher Brothers of Detroit, and other members of the so-called coterie of "big ten" bulls.

Powerful banking interests are also said to be opposed to further drops in the market because of the possible effect such "breaks" would have on business.

Powerful banking interests are also said to be opposed to further drops in the market because of the possible effect such "breaks" would have on business.

MARKET AGAIN DOWN Today, after rallying somewhat, the market again began to slide a bit with the "bulls" desperately fighting back.

Livermore has been reported heavily short on the market and Cullen heavily long, but there has been no direct action by either against the other. The market has been a singularly "impersonal" affair, although outstanding personalities are taking an active part in it.

This titanic struggle is based on sharply divergent views. Livermore, who is referred to as one of the "psychological bears," has long believed that prices on the stock market have been too high. He is not, however, a "bear" on American business conditions but he is understood to believe that enthusiasm on the part of Wall-st. and the general buying public has skyrocketed values up to an unwarranted basis. There is an old saying in the street that "what goes up must come down."

Cullen, the Fisher Brothers, Durant and others differ with the view that prices are too high. In the last month Cullen has issued several statements—or at least the stock tickers have credited the statements to them—to the effect that he continues bullish on stocks he has given his reasons, too.

GO ON RIGHT SIDE Of late Livermore has been on the "right" side of the market, Cullen on the "wrong" side. Whether the tide will turn is problematical, something which nobody knows for a certainty.

Livermore is an intensely interesting personality. He is a slight, blonde man, quick and nervous in his demeanor and a fastidious dresser. He rides in expensive automobiles, maintains a retinue of servants and has luxurious offices in New York City. As a boy he was a board marker in Boston brokerage houses and developed unusual skill at ticker tape reading. He came to New York and played the market skillfully. He is reputed to have won and lost several fortunes. His latest success is in the nature of a "come back."

Whether Livermore is at the head of a big "bear" pool, as rumored in Wall-st., or operating on his own account is a matter of speculation and was causing no end of discussion in the financial district today as business men and brokers watched with keen interest the trend of prices.

The "bear" markets have been in progress almost steadily in the last six weeks. And particularly since Oct. 4. Last Saturday's market was decidedly bearish. The markets of the next few weeks, in the opinion of well-informed traders, are likely to prove exciting, what with the "bull" and "bears" coming to a showdown on the issue upon which they differ.

GRIDDERS MEET WASHINGTON IN SEASON'S TEST

Fayette-co Squad Has Lost But One Contest This Year

The hardest test of the Circleville high school football season will be met Thursday at 3 p. m. when the Washington C. H. aggregation invades the local field.

Coach J. M. Guthrie in preparation for the Washington game has tested his first string backs to the limit by placing them on the second team against the first team line.

HEISKELL AT QUARTER Johnny Heiskell who has been playing full back on the eleven has been shifted to quarterback at which position he will probably be seen Thursday. Davis is playing a halfback with Hundley.

Washington comes here very much the favorite. It has been playing good ball all season, being stopped only by Chillicothe's mighty team.

According to scores of recent years with the big Washington crew, the locals have scored only 37 points against the Fayette-co. crew in seven contests as against 153.

The scores of previous years starting with 1920, were: Circleville 0; Washington C. H. 19; a return game in 1920 saw the Circleville team mop up by a 12-6 score. In 1923 the score was Washington 20; Circleville 0. In 1925, Washington, 31, Circleville 6. In 1926 the score was Circleville 19, Washington 14. In 1927 and 1928 the locals went down under score of 18-0 and 45-0.

JOINS IN FETE FOR OPENING OF WATERWAY

And, incongruous as it may be, President Hoover saw last night winging over this colonial stage-setting, great multi-motored airplanes flying through the rain and fog, brilliantly illuminated, as if to accentuate annihilation of time and distance in transportation.

The noise of the night-flying behemoths penetrated faintly into the candle-lit replica of Independence Hall, where the elite of the country's industrial and business genius were gathered to honor Thomas A. Edison, the father of modern lighting.

It is probably no exaggeration to say that no more distinguished company ever sat at any banquet table than at Henry Ford's table to pay tribute to their presence to the greying old man who rose from a news butcher on a jerk-water railroad to the highest scientific attainment that this country has yet seen.

The President of the United States was there and paid him tribute and so were the heads of scores of the nation's greatest industrial enterprises.

WILL ROGERS THERE
The roster of the guests at Henry Ford's dinner to his old friend Edison, in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the perfection of the incandescent lamp, read like a financial and industrial blue-book of America. And from beyond the confines of his own country came messages to Edison, paying tribute to his genius. The Prince of Wales sent his greetings and best wishes. President Von Hindenburg of Germany, expressed his admiration in a message, and from elsewhere in the world came communications of esteem and respect for the man who gave the world the electric bulb that now glows from Tokio to Kamchatka.

Some idea of the prominence of the company might be gained from an off-hand wisecrack by Will Rogers, the comedian.

"Whenever," he said, "Charley Schwab and Otto Kahn are not sufficient prominent to be seated at the head table, you have been to some banquet."

President Hoover went from this banquet to his special train and left Dearborn soon after midnight. The train was due in Cincinnati at 9:00 a. m.

Neither the president nor Mrs. Hoover apparently suffered any ill-effects from the drenching they received yesterday in riding for several hours in a chill October drizzle through cheering lanes of damp Detroiters.

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Railroads have safely passed those danger signals of prejudice which caused folks to look upon them with fear. Holding aloft the semaphore of progress AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE cleared the track and, today, millions travel in ease and security.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

BETTER IN JAIL THAN OUT

Those who obtained a graphic picture of conditions at the Colorado state penitentiary during the mutiny shudder at the thought that there are at large throughout the land many men as murderous and cruel as those convicts who killed their guards in cold blood in a futile attempt to enforce their demands for liberty. It is not a comforting thought.

Several things may be expected to result from this shocking episode which has no parallel in the history of American criminology. That it will have an effect upon prison guards everywhere is certain. Prisons will be more carefully guarded and prisoners will be better treated by their guards.

The slaughter at Canon City will make harder the way of the transgressor. It will vindicate habitual criminal laws in the minds of sentimentalists who have opposed them because they seem harsh. It will make it easier to obtain convictions of gunmen, bandits and gangsters, for juries will reason that it may be better that an innocent man go to jail than that a killer be at large.

Criminals impose upon themselves the penalties they suffer. As their crimes increase in number and viciousness laws become more stringent and punishment more severe. Criminals who grant no quarter can expect no quarter.

FATE OF "ISSUES"

Great political issues are made not born. This seeming anomaly is due to this: Every campaign and every ambitious congressman must have a hobby to ride.

Every national political issue conceived on American soil has for its objective the enactment of a new law. No matter how ineffectual the ultimately prescribed statutory remedies for the ills with which the issues are concerned, the mere fact that a law has been passed is enough to kill and bury the issue. Issues are raised to burden the statute books, not to unburden the people.

There was the farm relief issue. It died with the passing of a single measure, which certainly was no guarantee that relief was at hand. Remember the merchant marine, Muscle Shoals, flood prevention, Boulder Dam and radio control issues in congress. Other than the enactment of a few laws nothing essential was accomplished, but not even the dead ashes of the once burning issues are visible today.

Political issues no longer survive the uses of the politicians who blow life into them. Once they serve the selfish purposes of their makers they are dropped like foundlings upon the public's doorstep. After which congressmen lament the indifference of the voters and taxpayers.

THE DESERTED LOBBY

Blue Blood And Red

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Eddie Regan, once a member of a New York gang, has broken away and gone to Virginia, where he befriends Penfield Paradine, who dies and leaves all his possessions to Eddie. Eddie had been in love with Bernice Veressi, "gang girl," but all thought of her is lost when he meets and falls in love with Marian Thorndike. Marian is engaged to Tom Freeman. Freeman and Eddie dislike each other, and Eddie, discouraged, goes to Richmond, where he meets Mike Arno, a former member of the gang, who tries to persuade him to return to New York and Bernice. Eddie refuses and returns to his farm. He goes to dinner at the Thorndike home, and Mr. Thorndike questions him as to his past. Bernice Veressi comes to Eddie's home and informs him she has come to stay. He tells her it is impossible, that he does not love her. Finally she agrees to leave, but refuses to return to New York, saying she will go to town, where she can be near him.

Now Go On with the Story

CHAPTER XL

He tried to explain to her, but with little hope of success.

"But if you stay in town it will cause a lot of talk. People will get a bad opinion of you and think I brought you down here—that you are a dizzy broad. You can't keep things secret in a small place like this. I want you to go straight back to New York—won't you do that much for me, Bernice?"

"Why should I?" she asked, secure in her own decision. "This is a free country. No, I'll stay close by. If your whole life is at stake, Eddie, so is mine. I'm making a play for my big happiness, just the same as you are."

"But I tell you it's important—" "When you talk like that," she said meditatively, "I wonder how I can love you so much. Do you think it is nice for you to feel too good to acknowledge your old friends? What gives you such a swell head? I am just as good as you are, Eddie—every bit."

Her charges stung him with humiliation. Falsely, she was putting him in the shoes of a hypocrite. He told himself that he was spurning all that was sordid in his past—not that he was turning against old friends, but none of this he was able to put into language that would penetrate her passion-heated understanding.

"I'm not high-hating you, Bernice," he said, "but you don't get my angle—that's all."

Her eyes softened.

"I'm crazy about you, Eddie, and whatever you do, I'll stay the same, that's the way I'm built."

She pressed a clinching hand quickly to her breast. "It's in me—here!"

The situation was hopeless. Eddie's cold realization that he would have to stand firm and not be swept off his feet by this lurid catastrophe of love, gave him, suddenly, the outward poise of negligent coolness. One thing he could not do—he could not beg her, he could just plead. And, after all, he could not believe she really meant to leave him unhappily.

"All right, Kid," he said, with a sudden smile that marked his feelings. "You'll just have to do the best way you can. I'll have the horse hitched to the buggy and I'll drive you into town myself."

It was the quickest way to get rid of her. Now, when she knew she could not stay under his roof the keen edge of her first disapproval grew dull; she was even able to laugh a bit and exclaim naively over the unfamiliar objects of the country.

With her bags in the back of the buggy, they drove along the dirt road toward town, and he resolutely thrusting all apprehension out of his mind, Eddie was able to create a small, artificial interest in her presence.

He laboriously steered her mind away from the hectic discussion of her mad pursuit of him. There were a thousand bits of news from the city that she could tell him—but he had no real interest in this.

Nevertheless, he urged her to regale him with new information about the death of the Big Guy and the dissolution of the mob. He even seemed interested when she told him that the money she now possessed had been earned by a small beauty parlor in which she owned a half interest. Her mind, though, couldn't be diverted long from its main interest.

"Ah, Eddie, why do we talk such foolishness? How can I be interested in these things, when it is summer and my heart is so hungry for you, dear! I have looked forward to this day—to this night."

Eddie, all at once, felt his heart leap, felt a rushing of blood to his face. He pulled his horse to the side of the road to let an approaching automobile pass him. In front seat, sitting beside her father, was Marian Thorndike. She saw him, she saw Bernice, and as he lifted his hat stiffly he got a swift vision of astonishment in her dear blue eyes.

Passing Marian in the road—to have her see him with the flashing Bernice Veressi—gave Eddie an antagonizing moment that reflected his inner distress upon his face.

Early Days "Burning Air"

People were afraid of this "burning air," as illuminating gas was called at first, and could not be convinced that fire or explosion would not be the inevitable result of its general use. The lamp-lighters of London practically went on strike for a time when London streets began to be lighted by it. In 1807, although the word "strike" was not used. Used to the old-fashioned oil lamp, they were suspicious, and also fearful, of the new illuminant.

Sheriff Gets His Orders

Some strange communications come daily to the desk of a sheriff. The following one arrived recently from a woman in a small Washington city:

"Will you please go out and see how everything is in the house and how is the yard and fruit trees? Try all windows in basement, also, and let me hear about the place. I left a box in the pantry with dishes in and furniture in other rooms and left a list of all."—Portland Oregonian.

DR. COPELAND SAYS— MOUTH BREATHING A REAL TROUBLE MAKER

Dr. Copeland, Explaining How the Nasal Passages "Filter" Air Taken Into Lungs, Warns Against Breathing Through the Mouth.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

ALL the functions of the body are important. Most of them are more than important—they are essential to life. If this organ, or that should stop work, death would follow speedily.

We cannot get on without air and lots of it. The breathing function must be performed regularly, quietly, unceasingly.

The air is taken through the nostrils. The nasal tissues form a passageway, but what they do is much more helpful than to act merely as a passageway for the air we breathe.

Nature has made the nose so ingeniously that the small space has been multiplied in its usefulness by the addition of three shelves of bone. These are called the "turbinate bodies." Over the turbinates and under the shelving surfaces, overlying the septum—the partition between the two sides of the nose—and throughout the nasal cavities, the mucous membrane is spread.

This membrane is quite thick. It is packed full of blood vessels. This makes an arrangement for the heating of the air passing through the nostrils.

There is yet another useful arrangement. The cells that cover the mucous membrane are "ciliated." That is, they are hair-like. They wave in the breeze like a field of wheat, microscopic wheat.

You will ask at once, "What is this strange plan intended to accomplish?"

Its purpose is to filter out of the air passing through the nostrils all the dust and dirt, as well as the germs of disease. Thus, you see, the air we breathe is filtered and cleansed and warmed. Before it reaches the lungs it is purified and prepared for reception by the delicate air cells. It goes into them in proper condition for its use there.

Unfortunately, neglect of the nose, failure to get rid of colds and improper care of the body may result in disease of the nasal tissues. In consequence the mucous membrane becomes swollen and abnormally thickened.

When the nasal tissues are inflamed the glands contained within it become overactive. They throw out quantities of thick mucus. This serves to clog the nose still more.

The swollen tissues and the mass of mucus make it impossible to get air through the nose. Then there results what is called "mouth breathing." Instead of passing through the nose air flows in and out through the cold air, filling and cleansing the mouth with dirt and other impurities, is taken through the mouth into the throat and lungs.

Sore throat, laryngitis, bronchitis and even more serious ailments are produced in this way. The health suffers in consequence.

Organ and Piano In Unusual Recital By Hillsboro Musicians

Fall flowers in a pretty combination of colors, were artistically arranged as decorations at the Presbyterian church Monday afternoon when the Music Division of the Circleville Monday club presented a program of Organ—piano, assisted by Sarah Worley Prouty, contralto, and Virgil Elmore, violinist, all musical products of Hillsboro.

Due to the rainy weather, the attendance was not large but the audience was very appreciative and amply repaid for making a special effort to be present at this unusual afternoon of music.

A most pleasing diversion from the usual run of programs were the organ and piano numbers, rendered by the several versatile artists. There were four of such numbers and all were well executed, especially the first and last ensemble selections.

Sarah Worley Prouty, the contralto soloist sang a group of three songs which were enjoyable, and the third number was particularly delightful and brilliant. She sang the closing number on the program, "Lead Kindly Light," with organ and piano accompaniment, a beautiful sacred number.

The violinist, Virgil Elmore, a high school student, played "Extase" by Tobianni, with organ and piano accompaniment. This ensemble selection was greatly admired by the audience.

The entire program follows: Rhapsody.....Dunarest Nina Glenn Huggins (Organ) Sara Doris Swishelm (Piano) Nocturne.....Kroeger Roxie Gruver McConaughy (Organ)

Dorothy Polk Nofstger (Piano) Trees.....Rashbach Sylvia.....Speaks Birth of Morn.....Leoni Sara Worley Prouty Extase.....Tobani Virgil Elmore Narcissus.....Nevin Roxie G. McConaughy (Organ) Hazel Winkle (Piano) Grand Aria.....Dunarest Nina G. Huggins (Organ) Marie McMullen (Piano) Lead Kindly Light.....Bernard Sara Worley Prouty

Mrs. Link Mader received the prize Monday night as a member of the bridge club to which she belongs, and which was entertained by Mrs. George Littleton at her home on N. Pickaway-st. Only the regular club members were present at the meeting.

LUNCHEON FOR CLUB FROM HILLSBORO

Preceding the musicale at the Presbyterian church Monday afternoon, members of the Monday club choir entertained the Hillsboro music club members to a luncheon at 12:30 at the Boggs. Covers were placed for 20 guests from among the local members and visitors from Hillsboro. Luncheon of three courses was served in the private dining room of the Boggs, where the tables were exquisitely appointed with flowers and silver.

Mrs. Elgar Barrere, a guest from Circleville, entertained two of the Hillsboro visitors, Mrs. Laferty and Mrs. Granville Barrere.

Those of the Hillsboro organization who enjoyed the affair were: Mamie McMullen, Nina Glenn Huggins, Sara Doris Swishelm, Roxie Gruver McConaughy, Dorothy Polk Nofstger, Sara Worley Prouty, Virgil Elmore and Hazel McCann Winkle.

Members of the Monday club choir who were hostesses were Mrs. Evan Reichelderfer, Miss Abbe Mills Clark, Mrs. James P. Moffitt, Mrs. Frank J. Bennett, Miss Helen Marion, Mrs. Harry Heffner, Mrs. Charles Lewis, Mrs. Maude Foster and Mrs. Clark Will.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR J. H. ADAMS

Mrs. James Hardwick Adams entertained Monday night in honor of the birthday anniversary of her husband, at their home on S. Court-st. Seven guests were present at the dinner, served at 6:30 and which was followed by bridge. Mrs. Adams was assisted in entertaining by Miss Evelyn Fohl.

Among the players, the prize winner for the evening were T. P. Tattison of Chillicothe and Bob Peters of Circleville. In addition to Mr. Tattison, another guest from out of town was James H. Evans of Columbus.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Adams were guests of honor at a dinner party at which Mrs. Adams' parents, Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Dunton, were hosts. The dinner celebrated the first wedding anniversary of the honor guests.

POT LUCK LUNCH THURSDAY EVENING

The Pythian Sisters of Majors Temple will serve a pot-luck lunch following the regular meeting Thursday evening, Oct. 24. Each member is asked to bring a covered dish and a dozen sandwiches.

FEW CAN IGNORE CLUB INVITATION

Kipling once wrote: "Smells are surer than sounds or sights To make your heartstrings crack; They start those awful voices of right That whisper, 'old man, come back.'"

And so, following the theory of this famous poet the appealing odor of delicious "Georgia-Brown" fried chicken will greet those who travel to the County club Halloween party on Wednesday evening, Oct. 30. For those folks whose appetite does not lead to the enjoyment of hot crispy friend chicken, the "eats" committee will have other viands, equally as palatable.

This same committee promises plenty of ways to chase away the goblins. In olden days—after the Druids had adopted the Christian faith and abandoned their "All-Hallow Day" festival—country folk were accustomed to lighting torches and candles, that they might frighten away the evil goblins and witches and call for the good fairies.

But at the Country club party one may substitute pumpkin pie, sweet cider or huge puffy doughnuts, and appease the Halloween spirits by throwing a portion of the delectable foods over the left shoulder.

Reservations have already been received from a number of out-of-town club members. This week a committee will call on each member for their reservations. The members are asked to bring a guest. A small charge of 50 cents per person will include the dinner which will be served from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m.

The committee in charge of the dinner includes: Karl Herrmann, Dr. C. D. Phillips, Paul Adkins, Mack Mader, Bob Criswell, Donald Watt, Mack Parrett Jr., Glen Bales and Claude Kraft.

AT O. E. S. MEETING IN COLUMBUS

Mrs. Glen Nickerson is in Columbus visiting Miss Anne Morrison and attending the pre-convention events of the Order of Eastern Star. It is the 40th annual session of the Grand Chapter of Ohio. The first event was a dinner held Monday evening at the Maramor, and was given by Columbus worthy matrons in honor of the grand chapter officers.

Among the officers in Columbus for the convention is Hon. C. C. Chappellear, worthy grand matron of Circleville.

Official opening of the three-day convention, at which more than 10,000 delegates are expected, will be held Tuesday night at the Columbus Auditorium. Many from Circleville will attend.

Addresses of welcome at the opening meeting will be made by Gov. Cooper, Mayor Thomas, Charles J. Pretzman and James W. Morgan, the latter two on behalf of the Columbus Masons and the Grand Lodge of Ohio, F. & A. M. respectively.

Principal address of the evening will be by Otto H. Hohly, most grand master of the Grand Lodge of Ohio, F. & A. M. Dancing will follow adjournment in the ballroom at the Deshler-Wallick.

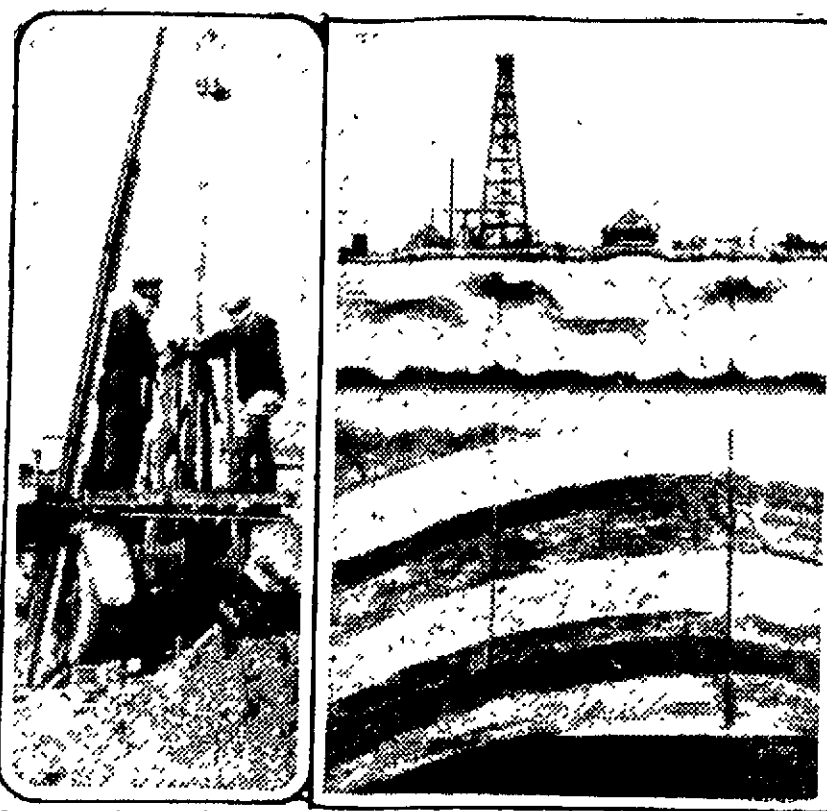

Eighty grand officers and past grand officers were at the Deshler-Wallick, convention headquarters, Monday. Mrs. Laura E. Magrew, 2843 Powell-ave., general chairman of the committees on arrangements expected several thousand members.

Exploring World Beneath Ground Important Phase of Oil Industry

EXPLORING PLUTOSKINGDOM ■ ■ MODEL OF AN OIL FIELD ■ ■

CHICAGO.—Underground America, the large oil companies, such as Standard and Standard, are constantly at work charting and interpreting underground conditions. Part of their information is obtained from surface surveys, for outcroppings of rock miles away from a well location may have important bearing on the prospect of finding oil on that location.

"Logs of drilling wells are carefully studied and elaborate records are kept of the varying depths at which certain strata are encountered. This information is frequently supplemented by the use of diamond drills in various sections of the country which bring up cores or samples of the underground formation. In spite of this vast amount of work, underground conditions are still far from being an open book as is proved by the fact that thousands of non-producing wells are drilled each year."

JUST MARKING TIME

We understand that some Texan has perfected an invention which will give motion pictures the appearance of "depth" on the screen. Which causes us (with sound effects) to suggest that another nice invention would be one that gives a little depth to the plots, too.

A little coughin' that starts in late October may end in a little coffin in February. However, both varieties are usually absent in the homes heated by an Estate Heatrola.

Our local jokester, Lee Shaner, comments that the fluctuation in the price of other grains never seems to affect the high price of wild oats.

"No one can deny," says the American Press, "that a town is judged by its newspaper. If its newspaper has a high standard, it is bound to make a good impression. If the newspaper is insufficient the city will soon suffer. No institution has a more serious relation to a city's reputation than its newspaper."

And that, dear friends is what we think about (ahem) every time we write an issue of 'Round the Town.

For longer and darker nights, and also for those who want to take full advantage of them a Ladyfairs Inner Spring Mattress, designed solely for the perpetration of restful sleep.

Jack: "So your father demurred at first because he didn't want to lose you?"

Ethel: "Yes, but I on his consent, I told him that he need not lose me. We could live with him and so he would not only have me, but a son-in-law to boot."

Jack: "H'm! I don't like that expression, 'to boot!'"

Clever use of face powder may catch a man, but it takes clever use of baking powder to hold him.

We listened to Bob Brehmer, our genial Ford dealer, describing what a wonderful "pick-up" the new model Fords have, and would you believe it it reminded us of the "pick-up" one enjoys with a Bee-Vac Vacuum Cleaner. Phone us for a demonstration and free trial.

John Myers, L. D. Ashford, H. B. Rhoads are among those getting ready for a real cold winter in a real warm way. Heatrola if you must know, is the way they're going about it, and a good way it is, too, as our many Heatrola friends will agree.

"Pop" Spangler: "Porter, I want to be called at 5 o'clock in the morning."
Porter: "Boss, Ah guess you-all isn't acquainted with those beach mode'n inventions. See dis beach button, heah? Well, when you-all wants to be called, you jest presses dat button, an' we comes an' calls you."

Several amusing incidents occurred during the Show last week. The best one, we believe, was when H. G. S. was talking to a Heatrola prospect. During the conversation, H. G. was called to the opposite end of the booth. When he returned to the prospect, he found a total stranger trying to sell the party. This stranger informed H. G. that he was a Mr. Hughes, from near Washington C. H., and that he was just another satisfied Heatrola user and was trying his best to line our prospect up for "June warmth" in his home for this coming winter. Needless to say, with such fine cooperation from Heatrola users, we closed the sale. That's the pretty part of selling the Estate Heatrola—we do not need to fear to call in a user to testify before a prospect. When are YOU going to order one?

HOMER HANDY'S HINT

If you have no light directly at the bottom of your cellar or back stairs, paint the bottom step a clear white and you will avoid that strain of taking either too many or not enough steps.

We have been telling you readers about the wonderful heating qualities of the Estate Heatrola. But, one of our users, Mrs. H. B. Denman, 344 E. Union-st., this city, has discovered that the Heatrola is useful in more ways than heating the whole house. Mrs. Denman has found that the Heatrola makes an excellent toaster. She makes toast by placing the bread on the grid over the INTENSIFIRE AIR-DUCT. That's a new wrinkle to us, Mrs. Denman, and we are passing this long to others. We have always claimed that the INTENSIFIRE AIR-DUCT was a valuable adjunct to the Heatrola by taking heat from the heater that would ordinarily pass out the flue, and this new idea proves it. Thanks for the tip.

During the Pumpkin Show quite a bit of interest was manifested by those living in the country in our Estate Gas Range, operating on PYROFAX gas. This gas makes it possible for those residing beyond the limits of the gas mains to enjoy gas burning appliances. After the installation of the service there is no bother nor trouble. It is used like city gas. Better drop around and investigate this system.

Organ and Piano In Unusual Recital By Hillsboro Musicians

Fall flowers in a pretty combination of colors, were artistically arranged as decorations at the Presbyterian church Monday afternoon when the Music Division of the Circleville Monday club presented a program of Organ-piano, assisted by Sarah Worley Prouty, contralto, and Virgil Elmore, violinist, all musical products of Hillsboro.

Due to the rainy weather, the attendance was not large but the audience was very appreciative and amply repaid for making a special effort to be present at this unusual afternoon of music.

A most pleasing diversion from the usual run of programs were the organ and piano numbers, rendered by the several versatile artists. There were four of such numbers and all were well executed, especially the first and last ensemble selections.

Sarah Worley Prouty, the contralto soloist sang a group of three songs which were enjoyable, and the third number was particularly delightful and brilliant. She sang the closing number on the program, "Lead Kindly Light," with organ and piano accompaniment, a beautiful sacred number.

The violinist, Virgil Elmore, a high school student, played "Extase" by Tobani, and with organ and piano accompaniment. This ensemble selection was greatly admired by the audience.

The entire program follows:
Rhapsody Dunarest
Nina Glenn Huggins (Organ)
Sara Doris Swishelm (Piano)
Nocturne Kroeger
Roxie Gruver McConaughy (Organ)
Dorothy Polk Noftsgar (Piano)
Trees Rasbach

ternoon, members of the Monday club choir entertained the Hillsboro music club members to a luncheon at 12:30 at the Boggs. POT LUCK LUNCH THURSDAY EVENING

FEW CAN IGNORE CLUB INVITATION
Kipling once wrote:
"Smells are surer than sounds or sights
To make your heartstrings crack;
They start those awful voices of right
That whisper, 'old man, come back.'"

And so, following the theory of this famous poet the appealing odor of delicious "Georgia-Brown" fried chicken will greet those who travel to the County club Halloween party on Wednesday evening, Oct. 30. For those folks whose appetite does not lead to the enjoyment of hot, crispy friend chicken, the "eats" committee will have other viands, equally as palatable.

This same committee promises plenty of ways to chase away the goblins. In olden days—the Druids had adopted the Christian faith and abandoned their "All-Hallow Day" festival—country folk were accustomed to lighting torches and candles, that they might frighten away the evil goblins and witches and call for the good fairies.

But at the Country club party one may substitute pumpkin pie, sweet cider or huge puffy doughnuts, and appease the Halloween spirits by throwing a portion of the delectable foods over the left shoulder.

Reservations have already been received from a number of out-of-town club members. This week a committee will call on each member for their reservations. The members are asked to bring a guest. A small charge of 50 cents per person will include the dinner which will be served from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m.

The committee in charge of the dinner includes: Karl Herrmann, Dr. C. D. Phillips, Paul Adkins, Mack Mader, Bob Criswell, Donald Watt, Mack Parrett Jr., Glen Bales and Claude Kraft.

The first event was a dinner held Monday evening at the Mar-a-Mor, and was given by Columbus worthy matrons in honor of the grand chapter officers.

Among the officers in Columbus for the convention is Hon. C. C. Chappelaer, worthy grand matron of Circleville.

Official opening of the three-day convention, at which more than 10,000 delegates are expected, will be held Tuesday night at the Columbus Auditorium. Many from Circleville will attend.

Addresses of welcome at the opening meeting will be made by Gov. Cooper, Mayor Thomas, Charles J. Pretzman and James W. Morgan, the latter two on behalf of the Columbus Masons and the Grand Lodge of Ohio, F. & A. M. respectively.

Exploring World Beneath Ground Important Phase of Oil Industry

EXPLORING PLUTON'S KINGDOM ■ ■ MODEL OF AN OIL FIELD ■ ■

CHICAGO.—Underground America, darkly mysterious to most of the 120,000,000 people who tread its vast grass-covered roof, is better known to the geologist today than the surface was to the scientist of 200 years ago. It is disclosed in a bulletin of the American Research Foundation, just made public here.

"Exploring the world beneath ground is but one phase of the great oil industry's service to the public," the bulletin states. "If it were not for their continuous pioneering work in the realm of rock and sand, the motorist might have no gasoline or lubricant for his automobile, and the farmer might find the kerosene supply for his lamps run out, and a hundred of important products derived from petroleum, vital to the nation's economic life would not be available. 'Hundreds of men in the employ of the large oil companies, such as Sinclair and Standard, are constantly at work charting and interpreting underground conditions. Part of their information is obtained from surface surveys, for outcroppings of rock miles away from a well location may have important bearing on the prospect of finding oil on that location. 'Logs of drilling wells are carefully studied and elaborate records are kept of the varying depths at which certain earth strata are encountered. This information is frequently supplemented by the use of diamond drills in various sections of the country which bring up cores or samples of the underground formation. In spite of this vast amount of work, underground conditions are still far from being an open book as is proved by the fact that thousands of non-producing wells are drilled each year.'

JUST MARKING TIME
We understand that some Texan has perfected an invention which will give motion pictures the appearance of "depth" on the screen. Which causes us (with sound effects) to suggest that another nice invention would be one that gives a little depth to the plots, too.

A little coughin' that starts in late October may end in a little coffin in February. However, both varieties are usually absent in the homes heated by an Estate Heatrola.

Our local jokester, Lee Shaner, comments that the fluctuation in the price of other grains never seems to affect the high price of wild oats.

"No one can deny," says the American Press, "that a town is judged by its newspaper. If its newspaper has a high standard, it is bound to make a good impression. If the newspaper is insufficient, the city will soon suffer. No institution has a more serious relation to a city's reputation than its newspaper."

And that, dear friends, is what we think about (ahem) every time we write an issue of 'Round the Town.

For longer and darker nights, and also for those who want to take full advantage of them—a Ladyfairs Inner Spring Mattress, designed solely for the perpetration of restful sleep.

Jack: "So your father demurred at first because he didn't want to lose you?"
Ethel: "Yes, but I won his consent. I told him that he need not lose me. We could live with him and so he would not only have me, but a son-in-law to boot."
Jack: "H'm! I don't like that expression, 'to boot.'"

Clever use of face powder may catch a man, but it takes clever use of baking powder to hold him.

We listened to Bob Brehmer, our genial Ford dealer, describing what a wonderful "pick-up" the new model Fords have, and would you believe it, it reminded us of the "pick-up" one enjoys with a Bee-Vac Vacuum Cleaner. Phone us for a demonstration and free trial.
